RICHMOND FROM BELLE ISLE .- "Richmond from Belle Isle" is the title of a landscape in oil, painted from nature by Mr. William G. Strange, of this city. The artist has shown taste in the selection and skill in the treatment of his subject. The strength of the dark rocks in the foreground contrasts very agreeably with the distant city glowing in the evening light.

JEFFERSON LITERARY AND SOCIAL CIRCLE. The members of this well-known an popular association are actively at work making preparations for a "grand masque ball," which is to take place at the Virginia Opera-House on the 15th of February next. This association is composed of the élite of our Israelitish friends, and well deserves the high standard which it has attained. The committee promise that this affair will eclipse all their previous efforts. Several WEEK ENDING JANUARY 27, 1877 .- Lots prizes will be given to the best original masks (male and female). No tickets will be sold; and for those who will be present we predict a happy time, and for the association a grand and briliant success.
